Public Comment

Pauline Czajka gave a brief update on the Senior Nutrition site in Elizaville, there are less residents coming at the moment, around 14 participants total

A resident brought up the recent hazardous waste day the County had and the lines of traffic for it and Supervisor Guzzi said the County is looking to add another day or two this year for it and the site would be changes to the Commerce Park

A resident brought up an idea she read about community solar and using between the panels for grazing of livestock and pollination and asked if Livingston had considered something like this for any of their sites but Deputy Supervisor Yandik said it's not viable for the sites in our area and geared for much larger sites
